tween the Museum and the Carriage House. The cost of this addition is $43,000. Many have already contributed both in money and time, but we are still short by $20,000.

This addition will provide much needed storage space, work area, and the facilities for the proper care and preservation of the many valuable books, papers, documents, photos and clothing which have been donated and collected over the years. The work area for preparing displays and exhibits will allow for a more frequent change of special exhibits.

Every member of the Mattapoisett community, adult and child, should be aware of the valuable resource that is ours in this Museum and Carriage House. We have a collection that equals, though perhaps not in size or volume, Mystic Seaport or the Whaling Museum in New Bedford. We are indeed fortunate that many years ago some members of our community had the foresight to realize the wealth of history that is ours and worked diligently to preserve that wealth. People of Mattapoisett, this is your Museum and we are asking for your generous support.

Pass by the Museum and check the building in progress, notice how the addition is in keeping with the architectural design of the Museum, and decide then and there to be a part of helping to preserve our Mattapoisett heritage. Your gift, which is tax deductible, may be made by check, payable to the Mattapoisett Historical Society, and

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
NOVEMBER 27, 1984 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

"TIS THE SEASON"

Selectmen issued a reminder last Tuesday of the Christmas Tree Lighting at 7 p.m. December 5 at Shipyard Park followed by a visit from Santa Claus who will be arriving in a tractor trailer. Caroling in the village will complete the evening.

Selectmen gratefully accepted the donation of the time of the Rev. Raymond Patch and the Youth Fellowship of the Congregational Church to decorate the Town Hall for the Christmas season. It was scheduled to be done on Sunday, December 2.

The Board announced, as appropriate for the holiday season, the Town Hall will be closed the Monday before Christmas and the Monday before New Year's Day. The regular meetings for those weeks will be held on Wednesday, December 26, and Wednesday, January 2

In other business, Selectmen:

ANNOUNCED that privilege stickers for the wharf, sanitary landfill and the town beach are now available in the Selectmen's office.

RECEIVED a written apology from Town Administrator Joseph Grassi on behalf of the Wareham Board of Selectmen regarding that board's negligence in participating in Mattapoisett's Veterans' Day Parade. Grassi assured Selectmen the negligence was due to a calendar entry problem and not lack of interest on the part of the Wareham Selectmen.

ACCEPTED the invitation of Public Prosecutor Harry Schmitt to attend the annual Public Prosecutors' meeting January 9th at L'Auberge Restaurant. Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta noted the Public Prosecutor's budget will be reviewed at that time.

NOTED the radio has been taken out of the old senior van will be placed in the senior bus. DeCosta said the new bus should be ready for use next week.

CORRECTION: An item in last week's Selectmen's write-up reported that the brush on Goodspeed Island roadway would be buried in January when the weather permitted. It should have been reported the brush will be burned when weather permits.

Help Keep Wharf Square Dancing

SQUARE DANCING ON THE WHARF MAY BE DISCONTINUED

The Mattapoisett Square Dance Association is 35 years old and has provided entertainment every Saturday evening during the summer. Both dancer and audience has benefited from this activity as well as the ten sponsors who run the dances.

Now this organization needs help! A volunteer to oversee these dances is absolutely necessary if these dances are to continue.

Weekly square dances on the wharf run from the last Saturday in June for 10 continuous Saturdays.

visit the school and see the vocational programs in operation, view student projects, and talk to teachers about student's progress. Report cards for the first marking period will be sent out prior to Parents' Night. We cordially invite all parents, students, and guests to visit us on this evening. Each shop will be operating on a small scale with a few students working on projects as they would during a normal school day. Parents will have a chance to meet briefly with individual instructors to discuss their child's educational progress in the vocational, related, and academic subject areas.

Also, the Special Needs Department would like to announce the availability of its Annual Program Plan for public perusal. The plan is on record in the Guidance Office and at any time during business hours is available for public inspection. Any questions about the plan can be directed to Mr. Thomas Hibbert through Mrs. Mortensen and she will make an appointment for you to discuss them with him.

The plan covers goals, procedures, implementation, and expenditures incurred in the process of complying with the Special Needs Laws, Chapter 766 for the state and P.L. 94-142 for the federal government.

Since Old Colony constitutes a substantial pool of skilled workers, area employers are also encouraged to pay a visit and get a first-hand look at our vocational training programs.

Everyone at Old Colony looks forward to an informative and enjoyable evening.

LIMITED INSTALLATION DATES BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Laura Paulino from the Dominican Republic and her American host brother, David, were the guests of families in the community. They were joined by Old Rochester's foreign exchange student, Allain Maissen from Switzerland, and O.R.R. students who are members of the A.F.S. club. These students attended classes at O.R.R. on Friday and were guest speakers in several of the foreign language and social studies classes.

On Saturday the students visited the Whaling Museum and the historical district of New Bedford.

Through this visit both Old Rochester students and the foreign exchange students learned about the customs and culture of other teenagers. The A.F.S. Club is planning an exchange with another A.F.S. group from Vermont later this year.

If you are interested in hosting an A.F.S. exchange student please contact Richard Ellis or Janice Moody at Old Rochester.

The goose planters are almost sold out ... ornaments are going fast ... and I have personalized slate orders up to my ears! The wreath, pictured on the door of this ad and on the front door of my shop, is a BRAND-SPANKING NEW idea this year! Appropriately dubbed "The Mattapoisett Wreath" it features 4 white scallop shells with hand painted red letters spelling out the greeting "NOEL" for all to see. A special droop-proof bow will keep it "fresh" the whole holiday season. If you would like this wreath to grace your front door ... HURRY!! Supplies are very limited. Oh, I almost forgot! Adorable animal bookmarks, unicorns, lambs, elephants, and more... great stocking stuffers! One more thing before I go, a closeout sale on wooden toys. Oh well, must get back to work now. Talk to you next week.

peting schools. ORR finished ahead of such schools at: Central Catholic (MA), Brookline (MA), Bishop Connolly (MA), Foxboro (MA), Colchester (VT), Classical (RI), Lisbon (ME), and Falmouth (ME). Top scorer for ORR was Jeff Humphrey.

Luckily, according to Mr. Cameron, advisor, this was the first meet and ORR was not far from the first place winner (Phillips Academy). The team from ORR has usually started off slow but improves during the year. This year should be no exception.

NEW ENGLAND MATHEMATICS LEAGUE

The ORR Math Team, competing in the first meet of the New England Mathematics League, finished in a tie for 7th place with 247 schools participating. In Massachusetts ORR ranked 4th and in Plymouth County tied for first with Hingham. Top scorers for ORR were:

Tied with ORR were: Hudson (MA), Phillips Academy (MA), Phillips Exeter Academy (NH), and Essex Jct. High School (VT). This was the best start for ORR in the past six years.

MATTAPOISETT RESIDENTS RECEIVE NURSING PINS

Two Mattapoisett residents were among 25 recipients of Nursing Pins and diplomas awarded at the 33rd commencement of the Diman Regional School of Practical Nursing. Lauren Fisher and Merilyn Harwood will be eligible for the State Licensure Exam to be offered this Spring.

The graduation exercises, chaired by David J. Ferreira, Post-Secondary Coordinator at Diman, included a commencement address offered by Doreen Sylvia, R.N. Professional Nurse Manager at St. Luke's Hospital.

Diman currently has a Practical Nursing class in the Pre-Clinical component of instruction and students are enrolling to begin classes in January.

Jr. High Seeks Interesting People

Students at the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School are seeking interesting and interested parents and friends of the school to teach mini-courses. Every sixth day in the school's six-day schedule pattern an "F" Day elective period offers opportunities for students to select a Special Area elective of their choice. During each quarter of the school year the offerings are changed and new choices are made available. If you would feel comfortable leading a discussion on Great Books, working with a few youngsters interested in ecology or wetlands study, tutoring some bright young people who share an interest in Black Hole theory or celestial navigation -- or, if you could give lessons on an instrument, instruct in theatrical stage design or makeup, talents like these are eagerly sought by our students.

Your only obligation would be to meet with your group of students a maximum of seven times during the quarter for approximately 90 minutes per session. You are free to fix the size of your elective at any appropriate number of interested students.

The next opportunity to offer such an elective will occur during our third quarter of the year which begins Monday, January 28. Courses and groups typically meet at the Junior High, but alternative arrangements might be considered.

Why would anyone be interested in such involvement? Testimonials from folks who have done so would include references such as

The annual Women's Plea for Soviet Jews focuses on the plight of those Jews in the Soviet Union who are denied religious freedom or the right to emigrate.

New Bedford Mayor Brian J. Lawler will present a proclamation of Human Rights Day for Soviet Jews at the program. Locally resettled Soviet Jewish refugees will be honored as special guests.

The Women's Plea for Soviet Jews traditionally takes place at the time of the Chanukkah celebration, a holiday which symbolizes the fight for religious freedom.

There will be an Oneg Shabbat - Coffee Hour (OH-NEG SHAH-BAAT) with a special Viennese pastry table following the program.

This program is free, open to the public, and sponsored by the Soviet Jewry Committee of the Jewish Community Relations Council of the Jewish Federation of Greater New Bedford Inc., in conjunction with the local Jewish service organizations.

For further information please contact the Jewish Federation at 997-7471.

pital of New Bedford with expanded quarters to better serve the thousands of patients who use the facility each year opened December 3rd.

"There still will be some moving going on and everyone will be getting acquainted with the new Emergency Room", said John Day, Vice President of Clinical and Support Services, "but it's business as usual and we're prepared to handle the community's urgent health care needs."

The new Emergency Room is adjacent to its former location on Page Street. The area the Emergency Room now occupies had housed the operating rooms until last year when a new Surgical Suite opened in the Century Building. The construction of the new Emergency Room is part of St. Luke's $22.2 million building program begun in 1979 to modernize the institution.

"Outpatient services including the Emergency Room and adjacent quarters for the Outpatient Clinics which will be completed soon are the building programs' final phase," said Mr. Day.

Inside the new Emergency Room more space and efficient layout offer improved comfort and privacy for patients and their families. It includes a waiting room, six exam rooms and special treatment rooms including a cast room, surgical procedures room, radiographic room for x-rays, and a cardiac resuscitation room equipped to treat life threatening cardiac or respiratory illnesses.

The physical layout provides for the expansion of emergency services into the abutting Outpatient Clinics during the busiest times or during a major disaster. St. Luke's Emergency staff annually parti-
